

ALL
GUTS

ISSUE #14

09/2019

NO
GLORY

DISCIPLES OF THE ZODIAC

costar, 1hr ago: can you experience discipline with pleasure?

it's a hot virgo summer.

u&i - the neighbourhood discipline - nine inch nails video games - lana del rey arsonist's lullaby - hozier heartbeat - childish gambino

me & my dog - boygenius

fool's paradise - birthday boy cocoa hooves - glass animals in your room - depeche mode

st. jude - florence + the machine

constant headache - joyce manor

AURAL SOLACE

DOL IKARA / obsidian ritual

Dol Ikara is a witch. Her shows so far have coincided with the days surrounding the full moon, thought that's mostly coincidence. The result of years of tinkering and experimenting, Dol Ikara emerged from Claire Roddy's bedroom aflame and screaming, like a phoenix: rising high, shaking off the ashes, always beginning anew. The ritualism inherent in the work shines through beautifully. Her music is haunting, a forlorn chronicle of creeping synth sections and deceptively powerful guitar lines that pair well with a voice that reverberates into the atmosphere. I didn't know I needed it until I heard her two singles ("Sparrow", featured, and "White Queen", not featured), and now I'm all in. The void within me is howling alongside the girl I've known all these years.

For those of you who vibe with situational listening, here's your assignment: try "Stone Towers", "Idyllic" and "Black Flower" for driving around with your windows down. For dancing in your bedroom, and singing to yourself in the mirror, go for "Residual", "Sparrow", and "Bon Road". Get listening, and then meet me at Zebulon on Sept 9th, or Gold Diggers on Oct 17th.

SIGNS AS REALITY TV TROPES

bc milena can't put the latest season of Are You The One down and alice is addicted to TLC.

aries: our love is different - we all know an aries claiming mr wrong is mr right.

taurus: mr. vice guy - taurus loves a vice. they'll take it as far as they can, be it chocolate or weed.

gemini: mean brit - self explanatory. the simon cowell of the zodiac cancer: only sane man - self explanatory leo: chronic backstabbing disorder - not necessarily intentionally. it's not so difficult to lapse into old habits even when pursuing a new leaf.

virgo: bitch in sheep's clothing - virgos are a deceptive breed of critics.

libra: love before first sight - leave it to venus ruled libra to fall in love with a figment.

scorpio: conspiracy theorist - self explanatory.

sagittarius: tall poppy syndrome - the concept that overachieving gets you struck down never really occurs to sagittarius, because usually they're the ones doing the cutting so no one matches up to them.

capricorn: white dwarf starlet - a dancing with the stars type, but one well loved.

aquarius: all gays are promiscuous - self explanatory.

pisces: a death in the limelight - pisces are very emotional, and a sudden relapse into nostalgia may signal a loss that's soon to come.